

Reviews of the Consequences Report

“This report provides valuable insight into barriers to mental health care for individuals with disabilities.”

José R. Rosario

Founder, The Phoenix Empowered
An organization focusing on mental health disparities in minoritized groups.

“I am impressed with the report and hope it helps draw some attention to this community!”

Jenny Farrell, Esq.

Executive Director
Mental Health Advocacy Services

“This report is very well written and organized. The information is presented in a sensible flow that builds on information and yet is concise.”

Virginia Focht-New, PhD, PMH-CNS, BC.

Associate Director Emeritus of Clinical Services for Vulnerable Adults Clinic at Widener University

“The report does an excellent, persuasive job of documenting the problem/need in this important area of human services and public policy.”

Marshall Kapp, J.D., M.P.H.

Professor Emeritus and Founding Director
Florida State University Center for Innovative Collaboration in Medicine and Law

“The report is clearly written, well-structured and full of useful information for policy makers as well as clinicians and service users.”

Biza Stenfert Kroese, BSc, MSc, Ph.D.

Senior Researcher in the School of Psychology
at the University of Birmingham, UK